NEXT SUNDAY is EASTER SUNDAY! We've decided this year to switch our Sunrise Service from Sunset Beach to Oppenheimer Park, Cordova Street. We'll try it this year anyway. It seems relevant to celebrate visibly this great Christian festival in the heartland of our own area.

We will meet at the church door at 8:00 A.M. and walk together to the Park quietly. We will return to the church singing an Easter hymn (symbolizing Good Friday - Easter Sunday).

We will then enjoy breakfast together in the Gym-Hall.....do the dishes.....and attend the 10:30 Service in the Sanctuary. We hope the "Cross of Daifodils" will play a significant part in both Services. David and Barbara Hodge are working with Art so that joy may abound on that morning!

Palm branches signified the coming of a King. But a King riding a donkey?

This popular welcome soon turned into something very different. Was a hired mob recruited to manipulate Roman justice on that fateful Thursday night? It is curious that Jesus' arrest and trial occurred "at night".

Were the common people who welcomes Jesus so warmly on Sunday responsible for His brutal treatment and death on Friday? Controversy has raged about this for centuries.

PALM SUNDAY: Jack Shaver leads us this morning in the Sacrament of The Lord's Supper. All the ingredients of this Passion Week are recalled in this Sacrament. May it have significant meaning for us all!

Tonight, our Quartette, accompanied by organist Harry Stothers will present the beautiful and haunting Passion Cantata "Seven Last Words Of Christ". Art Griffin will conduct the Service.

On 'Magazine' tonight on CKWX Radio, just prior to the Cantata broadcast, our Single Men's Emergency Aid worker Jan Sansalone will be interviewed on one area of suffering in our Downtown Eastside Community. She will refer to the inevitable results of the Provincial Government CUT-BACKS in social services. She and Bill Hennessy see increased violence as one result when human services (more stringent 'Handicapped' and Social Assistance eligibility requirements, Women's
