

Call to Worship:

Let the sea roar + the fulness thereof

The world and they that dwell therein

Let the floods clap their hands

Let the hills be joyful together Before the Lord

For he comes to judge the Earth

With Righteousness shall he judge The world and the people with equity.

INVOCATION

Visit us O LORD

Rain upon our dry and thirsty land your living waters.

Blow our smoldering fires into bright flame

Ravish us with your steadfast love
'til ^{all} our neighbors near at hand and throughout the world become ours.

Prayer:

OUR FATHER:-

We pray that your Word will not return with you void. But ^{will} accomplish thy purpose with us.

Your Word put ~~dark~~ ^{light} & Darkness to flight -

Our words are broken, & confused yet they are also the means of knowing ourselves know,
Finish the work you have begun in us.

you created you a people out of slaves yet they were stubborn & stiff necked

Finish the work you have begun in us

Your word called for steadfast love and knowledge of you - but we turned away to his own way -

Finish the work you have begun

Your word called for justice to roll down like waters & righteousness like a permanent stream yet we victimize one another -

Finish the work you have begun

Your Word became flesh and dwell among us - he came unto his own & we knew him not.

Open our eyes to behold the King of Glory.

Finish the work you have begun in us that we will rejoice in that which is well pleasing in your sight.

You have wrought some wondrous stuff in us & in those close to us and in a host of witnesses throughout the ages.

Finish the work you have begun

Reconcile the people of this earth to each other that we may behold your face.
