I may be making reference here to a minority group.
Real minority.

How minor² can you get,

all of this gets me off to a bad start:

Because Joe's Car said - how we don't want anything in a minor key. We have just been rocking our brains out where we could get some clown at the last minute :- we thought of you.

Obviously I have been misunderstood, just because I wrote once that a minister's self image ought to include that of clown, let no one know that I am one. It's not my fault if young people now a days don't recognise genuine dignity when they see it.

The real clown is the guy who thought to ask me. I was told you would say something short. How absurd. I imagine asking me for that.

I was told you didn't want any preaching. Now you're really getting absurd, if you don't want preaching don't ask a preacher who has been cut off from his pulpit ministry for 4½ years.

And if you have any forwarding overtones in that cut-off bit you didn't expect them.

I didn't want them either but I understood them.

But none of this makes me a clown, or maybe it does but it doesn't mean I can be one when I intend to.

All of which puts me in an absurd position.

I was told you would say something funny. It appears you'll have to settle for something absurd.

I think I see one escape.

Into something even more absurd than I am, or than our nation is.

Have the currents abundant and ^a multi. Unswarmed heron,

1. Shatter over anyone & other Catholic friends by getting the calendar, and sketching Christmas was forward from the 12 legs of Columbus into the advent season. I know we are an affluent society. But I have no idea what we plan to do with all the extra partings. Poor trees, milk, mushrooms, alone, today, every last one accumulated no wonder the computer business is operating in a days to go seller's market. The traditional

If we were observing the advent season, Traditional way we would be celebrating the coming again of Christ.
Then I could get really absurd and give a play reading of "Waiting for Godot".

Christmas Festival itself? →

Have the current abundance, and ^a multi-dimensional mosaic,

1. Shatter our Anglican & other Catholic friends by jumping the calendar, and shunting Christmas way forward from the 12 days of Christmas into the Advent season. I know we are an affluent society. But I have no idea what we plan to do with all the extra potatoes & Pork accumulated trees, milkmaid mangers, dairy hods, happy food etc. ^{add 24 more days to the traditional 12} no wonder the computer business is operating in a sellers market.

If we were observing the advent season, Traditional way we would be celebrating the coming of Christ. Then I could get really absurd and give a play reading of "Waiting for Godot".

That's absurd enough

Make-believe festival: —

~~Red~~ Shaking straw - HOHO! red flower suit,

Runs for a sweet little boy,
Sends the Western world madly sentimental once a year

Garden: →

Well - so that is that, Now we must dismantle the tree - Putting the decorations back in their cardboard boxes - Some have got broken - and carry them up to the attic, As in previous years we have seen the actual ruin and failed once again to do more than entertain it as an agreeable possibility once again we have sent him away. Bigger though to remaining his disobedient servant, The promising child who cannot keep his word for long.

But this is absurd, This celebration is about the incarnation, Not Make-believe - but "Made Flesh" -

Not Caught in the Make-believe

Caught in cynical: —
